

Discounted Lab Tests Offered in Celebration of National Hospital Week
By, Jennifer Hansen, Mammoth Hospital

“A Calling to Care,” is this year’s theme for the celebration of National Hospital Week 2005. In honor and recognition of health care providers and workers, Mammoth Hospital will be celebrating National Hospital Week during May 8-14 along with thousands of other hospitals throughout the country.

As a thank you to the community for its continued support, Mammoth Hospital will be offering discounted lab tests on Tuesday, May 10th and Thursday, May 12th, from 8:00 am to 12:00 pm. If you are interested in a Thyroid Stimulating Hormone (TSA), Lipid Panel, and/or Prostate Specific Antigen (PSA), please contact the lab at (760) 924-4090 to schedule your appointment by Monday, May 9th, as walk-ins will not be accepted. Since the event is sponsored for National Hospital Week, insurance companies will not be billed for the discounted tests; however, cash, checks, and credit card payments will be accepted. Mammoth Hospital will also feature an informational table during the lab testing in the clinic lobby to learn more about National Hospital Week and all the services and programs Mammoth Hospital has to offer; there will be free giveaways daily as well. For more information, please contact Kathy Romagnino, Non-Clinical Education Coordinator at (760) 924-4063.

Sponsored by the American Hospital Association, National Hospital Week has been celebrated since 1921 and is now the country’s largest celebrated health care event. National Hospital Week is a great opportunity to express your gratitude to those who stride to continuously improve the quality of health care services and to honor those who are making advances and breakthroughs in modern medicine.
